PECK COMPANY NINE WINS

Trim Lounsbury and Harris Club by Score of 4 to 0
in Hollywood Twilight League

William Peck's slingers won their second straight game yesterday when they downed the strong lumberjacks by a score of 4 to 0. Paul Hill, manager of the Lounsbury & Harris nine did not get his team going until after the first inning and then they played like champs. Ole Boy Johnson pitched a masterly game, holding the lumbermen to four hits and striking out eight. Shubin of the losers also chucked winning ball, but three by balls that were misjudged fell for hits in the first inning and they were responsible for the four runs. Today's game brings together George L. Eastman's cement and white lead-eaters and Herbert Scott's ice cream lads. These two teams have been throwing challenges at each other until they are bite in the face and this afternoon they meet for the first time. On paper, Eastman's nine should be favorite.

The batteries for today's game will be Burch and Yardley for the Eastman lead-eaters; for Lounsbury & Harris, Paul Hill and Lewis. Game called at 5 p.m. sharp.

Point System for Olympics Is Determined

Paris, June 9.—The point system of scoring for the track and field section of the Olympic Games was decided on by the Olympic committee today. Ten points will be awarded for first place, five for second, four for third, three for fourth, two for fifth and one for sixth.

Hence, the team with many first place winners will not be overshadowed by a team of second-raters, as was possible by the old system of scoring.

AMERICANS LAG IN AIR TRANSIT

Far Behind in Commercial Aviation Lines

Plane Transportation Well Fixed in Europe

Still in Experimental Stage in United States

BY FREDERICK J. HASKIN
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, June 9.—The people of the United States pride themselves upon being pioneers in many lines of improvement, but it appears that they cannot lay claim to supremacy in the field of commercial aviation. Although Americans—the Wright Brothers—were the first to make the heavier-than-air machine vehicle of flight, and although American aviators have hung up many records and have done well in military aeronautics, American commercial aviation has lagged.

The continent of Europe is criss-crossed with commercial aviation lines while there is scarcely one in the United States. France, England, Germany, Belgium, and other European countries issue regular maps showing the lines of flight of commercial airplanes just as in this country railway maps are issued showing the railway lines. For years air lines have been running on schedules as nicely fixed as those of the crack express trains of the United States. Air transportation is an established facility and is used by the European public in increasing every year.

IN FIRST STAGES HERE
In the United States commercial aviation remains in the experimental stage. There have been lines running from the United States to Cuba, but they have been regarded more as a sort of transportation freak than as a regular public utility. Such is not the case in Europe. There the air lines are a matter of course and a traveler takes his choice between an air line and a rail line much in the same manner as in this country a traveler chooses between a steam line and an electric trolley line.

There is one exception in this country. The Postoffice Department has maintained an air service practically ever since the war. At present, the only air mail route in commission in the transcontinental one from New York to San Francisco. The planes now travel only by day, but about July first a service will be inaugurated which will connect the two cities by a flight made in twenty-five hours.

The shipment of freight by air in the United States and, indeed, the transportation of passengers, has scarcely started.

In addition to passengers carried in 1923, between England and the continent some 800 tons of freight also were transported through the air.

AVERAGE LOAD INCREASED
The average load carried in 1923 by British aircraft increased from 110 pounds—three or four passengers and 150 pounds of goods—to 1200 pounds—four or five passengers and 275 pounds of goods. British commercial airplanes flew 943,000 miles, an increase of 228,000 miles over the 1922 traffic. The reliability of the flights in 1923 was 92.5 per cent compared with 91 in 1922. One hundred per cent equals no accidents and no delays. Despite the fact that longer flights were made and new routes opened in 1923, a better record was made.

In addition to the service to the continent, the British commercial air companies maintain service within the British Isles. For instance there is a service between London and Manchester, the two greatest British industrial cities.

CHANCE TO LEARN LINOTYPE TRADE

near future to take up the question of connecting all principal British cities with a network of air lines. The cities have agreed to subsidize lines which will start service, carrying mails, passengers and freight.

One of the proposals is to have steamers from the United States deposit all American mail at Plymouth, one of the first ports touched in crossing the Atlantic. From Plymouth, the American mail would be transported by airplane to all other parts of the United Kingdom. It is urged that this would result in quicker delivery than for the steamers to carry the mail on to London, Liverpool, Manchester, Southampton or any other British port whence it would be forwarded by rail.

It seems certain that the American business interests soon will develop commercial aviation as high as it has been developed in Europe and that planes will be buzzing about the United States as they now buzz about Europe.

Giant Laborer Fails to Locate Morgan; Jailed

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, June 9.—James Moran, giant laborer, made an early call on J. Pierpont Morgan yesterday, as he was being taken to the Thirty-sixth street entrance of the financier's Madison avenue mansion a few minutes after 7 a.m. The entire household is away and the house closed and when no one answered the bell Moran began pounding on the door and kicking it.

A watchman tried to get Moran to go away. Moran argued with him and when Patrolman Greenburgh came up, Moran began to fight in earnest. It took two men several minutes to subdue him and Greenburgh was severely battered about the face and body.

In police court Moran took exception to something Greenburgh said and they renewed the fight. He was held in $5000 bail for examination Wednesday. Beyond asserting he wanted to see Morgan "personally" the laborer would not explain his actions.

ROAD LOSSES DESPITE INCREASED BUSINESS

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROADS OPERATING COST JUMP FOR LOW INCOME
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, June 9.—The pamphlet report of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for 1923, issued today, clarified the revenue statistics made public last April showing a decrease of $3,075,502 in net income, despite an increase of 12 1/2 per cent in freight business.

Howard Elliot, chairman, stated that, notwithstanding the large volume of freight moved during the year, the revenue received from moving it did not increase proportionately.

"Much of the tonnage moved consisted of short-haul, low-grade commodities, taking low rates," he said, "and the general rate level in the Northwest is too low, considering the great increase in costs of every nature since the period before the war. The revenue per ton mile, compared with the three years ended June 30, 1917, increased 48 per cent, while wages increased 113 per cent, fuel 77 per cent and other material 73 per cent."

Although operating revenues of the company had increased $7,710,092, the excess of increase in operating expenses over revenues, it was stated, was entirely due to heavier maintenance, especially maintenance of equipment.

WOMAN WITH INFANT HELPS HOLD UP CAFE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
LITTLE VALLEY (N. Y.) The trio rifled the cash register and escaped in an automobile.

MOTOR PATROLMEN TOLD TO WALK; QUIT

PAINEVILLE (O.) June 9.—William Werbeach and Frank Mutch have resigned from the Fairport police force because the village council would not let them ride over their beat in an automobile. The council held that they would have to make their rounds on foot to perform their duty efficiently. So both patrolmen resigned.

When the Pacific Ocean Goes Dry—

WHEN our transcontinental railways cease to operate—
When all our industries shut down—
When our fertile lands become sterile—
When our climate changes—
When the lure of California is lost—

Then—and not until then—will George Sunday, Inc., lose its faith and cease operations in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles is independent—dependent upon no single factor for its prosperity. Its climate, agriculture, industries or transportation facilities, taken individually, would support a large city. Combined they are an irresistible force which is attracting people by the thousands and eventually must make this the metropolis of the world.

The Pacific Ocean is carrying our commerce. Our great transcontinental railways are operating. Our lands are producing. Our industries are growing. The wealth of the world is coming to us. Our climate is unchanged. George Sunday, Inc., has unbounded faith in Los Angeles.

HIGH FINANCE IN BOOTLEG GAME

Check and Note Figure in Nebraska Deal

Whisky Disappears, Farmer Goes to Court

Money Turned Back, Then Verdict is Revised

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LINCOLN (Neb.) June 9.—A decision just handed down by the State Supreme Court shows that high finance has crept into the bootlegging game in Nebraska. L. Schellpeper, a farmer living in Stanton county, ordered ten cases of whisky from W. F. Sporn and William Baier, two men who make no concealment of the fact that they were dealing in liquor. The men said that they would have to make a trip to Sioux City to get the whisky, and insisted that Schellpeper would have to pay them $1000 in advance. The canny farmer demurred, but the bootleggers were insistent. Finally it was agreed that Schellpeper should give them a check but that in order to insure him against total loss in case they were killed while on the dangerous enterprise they should execute him a note for that amount. This also would come in handy if they did not deliver the liquor. That was what actually did happen. The bootleggers kept his money and he got but $150 worth of liquor. Then he sued on the note, and the court gave him judgment for $550. The two men went on the stand and told their story that they took the $1000 over to Sioux City and there bought the whisky. It was loaded onto a truck, but they got a tip that the sheriff was waiting for them. They took and hid the liquor on the side of a hill and covered the new earth with brush. When the sheriff released his vigilance, the bootleggers got the liquor, but somebody had stolen it. At the conclusion of their evidence the trial court holding that this was no defense, directed the jury to return a verdict for Schellpeper. The Supreme Court says the trial judge was wrong, that the jury had a right to say whether they believed the evidence of the bootleggers and that if they did so the plaintiff could not recover because of the unlawful character of the transaction. Schellpeper did not take the stand at the trial.

CONDUCTOR VETERAN TO RIDE IN FUN

To Take 10,000-Mile Journey After Riding 750,000 Miles

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
YONKERS (N. Y.) June 9.—Fred Garrison, New York Central passenger conductor of Yonkers, who has travelled about 750,000 miles at his work, started yesterday on a long pleasure ride. He left on a ten thousand mile journey to Seattle, San Francisco and other points West and will ride for about a month, eight weeks. Other conductors have ridden much further than Garrison and one, Edward Denaut of Yonkers, quit after 1,650,000 miles because he said he was tired of riding. "It is not how many miles a fellow travels," said Garrison, "but how far he gets that counts." During his seventeen years service he declared he did not get much fun out of shuttling up and down the Hudson division, because he had to hustle collecting tickets, especially upon commuter trains. "Now, I'm going to take a long ride," he concluded, "and enjoy it."

Rubles of Czar Bought in Hope of Red Defeat

(ST. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, June 9.—Active buying of Roman rubles, Russia's pre-war currency, has developed within the last two weeks, based on the assumption that the value of the exchange would be restored by an eventual change in government, foreign exchange dealers reported today. Speculative operations, originating almost entirely in Japan, have carried the rate up to $1600 a million rubles, contrasted with a low price of $150 a million established two years ago. Soviet rubles on the other hand are quoted nominally at 60 cents a million.

Bravery Medals of War Veteran Taken by Thief

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
DENVER, June 9.—A thief mean enough to rob a war veteran of medals bought at the risk of his life in the trenches of France is the object of a police search. August Abner, 1705 Grand street, reported that a burglar had entered his room Tuesday night. He lost only $5 in cash, but he stole all his prized trophies. They included a distinguished service medal, an Italian bravery medal, a Belgian cross, a veteran medal and three medals earned by bravery under fire. The thief even took a handkerchief pierced by thirty-two bullets from a machine gun turned on Abner during an attack.

TAKES TROUSERS BACK AFTER FORTY YEARS

MIDDLETOWN (N. Y.) June 9.—Samuel Milburn, 68 years of age, a well-to-do farmer, appeared at a clothing store in Goshen and placed on the counter a pair of trousers he had purchased more than forty years ago from the father of the merchant. The trousers, which had never been worn, were wrapped in the paper in which he had taken them from the store so long ago. The farmer desired to exchange them for cash or something else, but was directed to call on a dealer in antiques.

STUDENT TRIES TO SAVE HIS FIANCEE; DROWNS

CEDAR RAPIDS (Iowa) June 9.—Theodore Wintz, student at Coe College, lost his life in trying to rescue Georgia Heckethorn, his fiancée, after both had been plunged into Cedar River when their canoe capsized. Miss Heckethorn was rescued by Roy Doty, who was passing in a canoe. The accident occurred near Ellis Park, in view of scores of persons.

EX-MARINE KILLS SELF

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PESICO (Ariz.) June 9.—M. J. King, former member of the United States Marine Corps, lately arrived from Chicago, was found dead in his room in a local hotel. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide by self-administration of cyanide of potassium.

Se insiste en que Lowden Sea Campesino a la Vicepresidencia

CLEVELAND, Ohio, 9.—Los republicanos de los Estados Unidos que se hallan aquí para la convención presidencial están listos para que la primera sesión formal se verifique mañana por la noche. No tienen sino dos problemas por resolver: la selección de un candidato para vicepresidente, y la preparación de un programa que puedan adoptar Calvin Coolidge y su compañero. El señor Frank Lowden, ex-gobernador de Illinois, sigue siendo el favorito para designación como vicepresidente, a pesar de sus energías y reiteradas declaraciones de que no aceptará el nombramiento, caso de que resulte en el segundo término, en favor del senador Curtis, de Kansas. Otro de los que se mencionan es el doctor Burton, presidente de la Universidad de Michigan, pero éste, al menos cuando vote por Coolidge, parece dudoso que pueda asegurarse al actual presidente todo el voto de Michigan. El ex-general Harbord, antiguo jefe de estado mayor del ejército, por la cabecera de una de las grandes compañías de radio, se también mencionado en las listas de candidatos. Por último, de vez en cuando se levanta algún delegado del oeste central para pedir que sea designado el ex-senador Kenyon, de Iowa.

Art Sch

Building a Greater Silverwoods

THIRTY YEARS spent in upbuilding Silverwoods' reputation throughout the Pacific Southwest for word-keeping and values.

THIRTY YEARS ahead of us, ON THE CORNER OF SIXTH AND BROADWAY, to build a GREATER Silverwoods — making our word mean even more, excelling our past reputation for value-giving.

DURING our past thirty years we've found that what keeps a business satisfying is the pleasure of dealing in quality—at an honest price. The pleasure of dealing in such merchandise as Hart Schaffner Marx clothes for men and boys—Stetson hats—Manhattan shirts—the other "standard" quality makes of apparel.

Really, the Public has built us to our present size. All we've had to do was the following (a good thing for any young man starting out in business of any kind to study and remember):

- be alert, courteous, carry a complete line of good merchandise
- be enthusiastic with the happiness of doing a clean business; the happiness of being able, always, to look former customers squarely in the eye when they return.

- operate with the confidence that the public expects you to take their honest profit, pay, for getting and serving expertly and promptly.

There's no substitute for this. And we've always found that we leave it to the public to judge, to see, to appreciate our efforts at improving service and increasing our value-giving. Most of the retail successes (all of the permanent successes) that we are proudest of in this country have been built upon the best "known" makes of merchandise at a fair price.

This beginning of the coming THIRTY YEARS AT SIXTH AND BROADWAY renews our promise, our continued endeavors, to give even better service, and greater values, through the history-making period ahead.

The Silverwood policy will remain the same — to offer men and boys of the Pacific Southwest only good merchandise, the truly economical merchandise — the kind which has upbuilt this institution, made friends for us in the past.

Each day we will call your attention to some one department — some particular apparel — accenting HOW we are starting to build a GREATER SILVERWOODS; offering you a "slice of our birthday cake of 30-30 values."

SYNOPSIS

Tom Kendrick, a young American of whom she has dreamed since she met him in the days of her poverty, has returned to Paris and sought out Elise Duchanier. When he knew her she was maid to Lolette, the celebrated dancer. Now, because Lolette's jealousy has miscarried, Elise is La Phalène, whose fame as a dancer outshines that of her former mistress.

Dr. Lapierre, who loves Elise, has warned her she has one year to live. Elise, sole support of an invalid sister, has sought security in the number of her suitors, playing one against the other. They include Count Mordac and her manager, Maurice Brunel. Also Ahmed, Arab prince, and Donatelli, who, because of her, fought a duel of dice and poison. Ahmed lost. Kendrick found Elise at the duelling ground whither she had gone in a vain effort to stop the strange contest. Elise tells Brunel she must rest and break her contract with him. She goes to Monte Carlo. Brunel, Mordac and Lolette follow. Kendrick, whose life of love she has resisted for his sake, appears there also. And Dr. Lapierre.

Chapter LVIII THE DANGER POINT

The days drifted by, as though all life was a quiet ship floating down a sunlit stream, and with the passing of each twenty-four hours, Elise became conscious of an increasing tension among those immediately surrounding her. She had not again seen the man have questioned her, but she rushed from the room. He had nobody to whom he could turn now, for Brunel was hostile to him. The two seemed to draw further apart each time they were together in the company of Elise. The only thing they had in common—apart from their desire for her—was a hatred of Kendrick.

Brunel's patience was at last exhausted. Mordac was talking to him of his castle in the Pyrenees. "That visit never materialized," he said.

Brunel shook his head. "No, but I shall go one day."

Suddenly Mordac realized that Brunel was contemplating carrying La Phalène off to that place where he was king—away from help and the world.

Chapter LIX THE TRAP

It was a fine night of stars, such a night as that on which Elise dined first at Mordac's little villa above Beausoleil, that Mordac struck. He arranged it cleverly. A few adroit lies, and Lolette and Brunel went to the Casino to play. Ostensibly, Mordac was to call for Kendrick, and they were to go together for Elise.

They had not long gone when Elise received a telephone message at the Paris from Mordac. Kendrick was up at his villa with the others. There was a little change of plan. Would she run up at once in the car? She readily agreed to do so.

She was shown into a quiet room looking toward the hills—a room not too big, furnished sparsely and with taste. It was a room which, when the heavy door was closed on it, seemed isolated and shut off from the world. Mordac came across to meet her as she entered.

"I am sorry to have given you this trouble," he said. "But circumstances have driven me to it. Will you sit down?"

She seated herself, suddenly alive with a leaping fear. The house was so silent. The man who admitted her was, she knew, Mordac's confidential servant, a length of journey seemed to satisfy him immensely.

By the time he got back Lolette was waiting for him.

"She left the Paris alone. That Kendrick—he has never been there for her. Mordac lied. So then she went to but one place—to Mordac's house."

Brunel stared at her. Mordac had tricked them both.

Lolette went on: "Well! Why do you stand there like a great fool? Get your car! Hurry!"

She clutched his arm and literally forced him toward the exit. A man brushed past them—going in. Brunel gasped. "Kendrick!"

As Kendrick half-turned, Lolette urged Brunel still forward. "Think of her at Mordac's!"

NEW ORANGE JUICE PROCESS DISCOVERED

EXPECTED TO GIVE MARKET FOR STATES' ENTIRE SURPLUS CROP

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—A new California product, pure orange juice, made available by a new process for shipment to all parts of the world, now is being placed on the market for the first time, the industrial department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has been advised. The first three carloads of the juice to be shipped went east last week in glass-lined, enameled refrigerator tank cars, consigned to Chicago, New York and Boston.

The new product, according to information made public by the Chamber of Commerce, is expected to find demand throughout the United States as efforts have been made for more than seven years to discover a method of handling orange juice which would insure its lasting without becoming bitter. The process now used is entirely mechanical, and makes the use of substitutes unnecessary. It consists in removing from the juice the portion of the orange which caused the change in taste.

Development of the demand for California orange juice in Eastern States is expected to provide a market for the entire surplus orange crop of California.

BRITISH NAVY SENDS LIQUOR TO VANCOUVER

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

VANCOUVER (B. C.) June 9.—Nearly every steamer arriving from the United Kingdom is coming direct to this port because their cargoes contain a big shipment of liquors for the navy. Late June and early July will see several thousand loads in Jack Tar uniforms in the port and, as some of the boats will be dry by the time they get here, their wet stores will have to be replenished. The London "Importer" arrived this week with 3000 cases, another ship came in last week with 4000 cases and nearly every boat has its share of this freight. The liquor comes in bond and is carried in a bonded warehouse awaiting the arrival of the navy squadron.

ESCAPES LIGHTNING

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

ROOSEVELT (Ariz.) June 9.—Mrs. L. A. Shattner, wife of a forest ranger, narrowly escaped death when a lightning bolt struck a stove chimney above her kitchen. She was thrown to the floor, but only shocked.

BRIGHTER ERAPresident of Mexico Sees Hands of Nations JoinedAttacks Oil Interests as Foes of Republic's ProgressWelcomes American Aid in Fight for Stability

LUNAR DISPATCH

NOV. 25 (Son, Mex.) June 9.

Heads of state of greater understanding and better relations between the peoples of the United States and Mexico, President Obregon has declared at a reception in his home here last night predicted the triumph of the forces striving for the welfare and progress of the people of Mexico.

The people of the United States, he said, have come to a new realization of the importance of the oil interests of Mexico, and he welcomed their aid in the task of bringing about better government and economic progress. He said that the oil interests of Mexico are the basis of the nation's future, and he welcomed their aid in the task of bringing about better government and economic progress.

"A strange thing has occurred and to our good fortune, in that our two peoples have at last known each other and have appreciated each other and Mexico among her greatest allies the noble American people, who are now convinced that their interests are morally justified and that the efforts which we have put forth to better the position of our millions of pariahs which our country held under past administrations are worthy of the respect and the esteem of our evolution and our enemies, and both peoples, at last, with instantiations and understanding, stand side by side on the same objective, the effort to destroy their enemies. It is therefore necessary that men who think and feel should understand the transcendence of the moment in which we live and should bring to bear the full force of their intelligence and their power, to prevent, in this emergency, the breaking of the ties between morality and intelligence on the one hand, and the material forces on the other. Should this occur, life would have no explanation with which to justify itself."

NATION UNDERSTOOD

"I consider that Mexico is at last being understood by the men worth while in our neighboring republic, who have found out that it is not a country to be conquered, but a country to be understood. I am going to do something to make our country something more than a territory."

Home Town Club to March in Schoolboy Smocks
With Coolidge Farm Cakes at Convention

CLEVELAND, June 9.—Dressed in brown smocks, such as Calvin Coolidge wore on the farm when a boy going to school, members of the Vermont delegation and school friends of the President have arranged to stage a demonstration in the Republican National Convention Thursday immediately following the nomination of Coolidge.

The Vermont delegates will parade the convention hall, carrying cakes made of wood cut out of the Coolidge farm near Plymouth, Vt., and wearing the brown smocks with the words, "Coolidge Home Town Club" painted on the back in large letters. Twelve hundred of the cakes were brought to Cleveland from the Vermont delegation. They were cut out by E. T. Brown of Plymouth, who owns the farm adjoining the Coolidge farm, and who went to school with the President.

"Keep Cool and Keep Coolidge," is the slogan of the Vermont delegation. They hope to make a big impression on the convention, and plan to introduce it to all the various State delegations in all the hotel lobbies tomorrow.

The refrain to the song is: "Keep cool and keep Coolidge" is the slogan of today.

other country, has surely been able to feel the bitter reality to which I refer, in her noble effort to recover her liberty and her autonomy. Mexico, in order to conquer the bases which she considers must govern her for her to better the conditions of her people, has paid a tribute of blood and pain which make her worthy of the consolation of these conquests; but she had had to overcome the material influences of which I just spoke, for they have been the most formidable barrier in the way of her desire for her moral, social and political reinvigoration.

GRAVESTONE OF OIL

"These material interests constitute a real gravestone which prevents any movement of every noble idea, and that gravestone is made of oil. Those great material interests presented the most formidable resistance to our evolution and when they become convinced that the government which grew out of the revolution would place itself at their service to defend their interests, they have taken refuge in their hiding-places in Wall Street, to continue their conspiracy against the stability of the nation which was born in the furthestance of their material interests; but fortunately, these enemies of our collective life have been discovered in their own country, and a strong hand has drawn the cord which held them in their material interests, and has shown the American people their diabolical physiognomy."

BERT COLIMA WILL

FIGHT AT COMPTON

Manager Rex Donnan and Matchmaker Barney Meyers of the Compton Athletic Club have booked Bert Colima to fight the main event there Friday night. Colima is a popular battler throughout the south, and this will be his first Compton battle. Dick Evans, a good middleweight, will be Bert's opponent. Evans, a former champion, is a powerful fighter and is expected to be a tough fight. The bout is expected to draw a large crowd.

IBSEN'S ORIGINAL NORA

People often ask me whether it is really true that I am the woman who furnished the material for "The Doll's House." I am not. Yes, I was Ibsen's model. My husband was ill and in order to save him contracted debts without his knowledge. When my action was discovered, my enemies, the members of the Brandes party, spread the rumor that I had committed forgery. This, however, was untrue.

When Ibsen reached the ears of Ibsen and he made my story the basis of his play. My husband had been a doctor, a point of view, and the story which I told was the basis of the original Nora, the wife of Helmer. For many years "The Doll's House" was like a dark shadow over my life. The Norwegian novelist, Camilla Collet, asked Ibsen to defend himself, but Ibsen said that time was too dependent upon the then controlling literary class to do so. He was opposed to the play, and he refused to defend me. So we broke with each other till I met him again in the last years of his life. When he learned the truth about the matter that had caused so much grief his play had caused, he wept. —Laura Kieler, in Berlingske Tidende, Copenhagen.

BUSINESS NOW MARKING TIME

For the Moment Politics Has Nation's Attention

Middle West Trends Studied With Great Interest

Stage Setting Shifts With Wisconsin at Sea

BY GLENN GRISWOLD
(Editorial Staff)

CHICAGO, June 9.—Politics takes first rank in immediate consideration of the middle-western executive who are examining all the currents and accepted barometers that might indicate in what direction business is drifting. Day to day developments and underlying tendencies contributing to vote making and administrative policies are closely studied in the hope that they might give a key as to what the future holds for business in the way of sanity and co-operation in government.

Congress has adjourned without doing serious damage. Next come the nominating conventions and then the campaigns. These are the two points of interest and incidentally, some doubt. That could be followed by a campaign in the middle west in the last month of the year. One of the most important bankers in the west, who incidentally stands high in the Republican ranks, told this correspondent a few days since that he anticipated an extremely hot fight and close contest during the Presidential campaign and at the polls this fall and while he was not convinced that he would be elected. A month ago he had no doubt of a Republican victory.

BUSINESS HESITATES

That in a measure reflects the shifting on the political stage in recent weeks and answers a question frequently put why business does not throw off the uncertainty that has in some instances approached paralysis in the middle west. The Democrats are conceded a large opportunity of winning out, even though no one has any clear idea of who their nominees will be. And the stronger the choice the greater their chances of success. It is the unknown quantity that troubles them. Their selection might be eminently satisfactory to business and then again he may not, even though he be a strong candidate from a strictly political viewpoint. Business is waiting for the horse to appear that he may be assayed and his opportunities weighed.

That Congress has adjourned before it could do permanent injury to the business machine is a source of great relief to the executives who are responsible for its operation. Radical proposals being frequently advanced in the nation's legislative halls have been a constant menace to business for the past year, while the minor harassments have slipped through the important achievements of this Congress cannot be considered destructive. It was the ever-present threats that hurt. With that out of the way business can take a breath and try to go ahead again.

AFRAID OF BROOKHART

In this regard it has been a source of great disappointment to business interests of the middle west that Iowa saw fit to re-elect Brookhart. When the returns were in, a large number of business men declared he was the most dangerous man in the senate. He said that while La Follette, Borah and others were frequently radical in their viewpoints, they usually made it a point to study deeply any matters in which they became involved, and their legislative proposals were a rule and some solid foundations. He added that this could not be said for Brookhart. These are the middle-western thoughts on the present political situation. They fairly accurately portray the viewpoint of business men and bankers who control industrial affairs, and to that extent the business men who control the purse strings of the nation. Once the atmosphere is cleared, the various questions in the mind of the business men are answered. It is believed that there is a considerable acceleration of activity. Even though the outcome is not all that might be desired, allowing for the unexpected in political affairs, because the worst will have been made known, and the best, and the call on the business ship can be trimmed accordingly.

BOND QUOTATIONS

New High's Touched
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, June 9.—Relation of money rates and notation of $100,000,000 Treasury certificates on a prewar basis of 3-4 per cent today stimulated one of the year's most active bond markets in which all active Liberty issues established 1914 top prices and many railroad issues sold at the year's highest levels.

In striking contrast to the action of the domestic bond market was the weakness of Japanese issues. The new 4½ per cent bonds dropped 1½ points to a record low price on liquidation inspired by anti-American demonstrations of Japan, resulting from adoption of the exclusion policy. The Japanese 4½ also touched a new 1924 low at 74.

With call money renewing at 2½ per cent, the lowest rate in five years, and then falling back to 3 per cent, quotations on the outside market ruling as low as 1-2 per cent and time funds manifesting an easier tendency, the heavy buying of government obligations began at the outset of today's trading.

Liberty bonds, with advances ranging from 5 to 14-32 scaled new 1924 peaks and the Treasury 4-1½ set a new record for all time at 102½. The average price of Liberty bonds today was around 101 as compared with an average earlier in the year of 98. Closing quotations were slightly below the day's high level.

Falling to find employment for all their surplus funds in the Liberty bond list, institutional buyers centered their activities in the late trading in railroad mortgages, International and Great Northern issues moved up briskly to the best prices of the year along with Missouri Pacific and St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern issues.

Current strength of the market for public utility securities is said to forebode a large volume of this type of bond offerings. Several sizeable issues are expected to appear this week.

Following are closing quotations on bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange by Louis & Bryson, 605 South Spring street.

NEW YORK CURB

SLIGHT ADVANCE
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, June 9.—Market prices moved within a narrow trading range today's session, but the general list was pointed upward as the result of the strengthening developed in the late trading, but the list contained one of the year's most active bond markets in which all active Liberty issues established 1914 top prices and many railroad issues sold at the year's highest levels.

In striking contrast to the action of the domestic bond market was the weakness of Japanese issues. The new 4½ per cent bonds dropped 1½ points to a record low price on liquidation inspired by anti-American demonstrations of Japan, resulting from adoption of the exclusion policy. The Japanese 4½ also touched a new 1924 low at 74.

With call money renewing at 2½ per cent, the lowest rate in five years, and then falling back to 3 per cent, quotations on the outside market ruling as low as 1-2 per cent and time funds manifesting an easier tendency, the heavy buying of government obligations began at the outset of today's trading.

Liberty bonds, with advances ranging from 5 to 14-32 scaled new 1924 peaks and the Treasury 4-1½ set a new record for all time at 102½. The average price of Liberty bonds today was around 101 as compared with an average earlier in the year of 98. Closing quotations were slightly below the day's high level.

Falling to find employment for all their surplus funds in the Liberty bond list, institutional buyers centered their activities in the late trading in railroad mortgages, International and Great Northern issues moved up briskly to the best prices of the year along with Missouri Pacific and St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern issues.

Current strength of the market for public utility securities is said to forebode a large volume of this type of bond offerings. Several sizeable issues are expected to appear this week.

ACTION NEEDED
Loading on the job is about the poorest thing a man does. You can't make a base hit while the bat is resting on the shoulder.

LEADS HIS FELLOW
An English lord has just won the first prize for embroidery work at his district fair. And yet they say that the nobility is slumping.

THE DIFFERENCE
Cats used to go barefooted to indicate their contempt for fashion. Now our daughters are about to go barefooted to indicate their desire for leadership in it.

THE RULING PASSION
A Syracuse woman is having her mane docked at the age of 86. She does not propose to fall behind the Heleens of Troy.
There is no age to be bobbed hair.

LOOKING BACKWARD
The Prince of Abyssinia, who is now in France, claims to be a direct descendant of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba.
This would tend to confirm an ancient scandal.

THE PRACTICAL WIDE
One of the big universities is teaching students how to sell life insurance, build houses and repair automobiles. This is better than drilling them in economic fallacies
that make parlor slinks of them.

KIRK THE PEACE
Sir Christopher Wren permitted no
profanity during the construction of St.
Paul's Cathedral, but it seems mighty hard to rear a modern skyscraper without a cuss word, although the structure is all out of order.

PITIFUL OF A CITY
A returned explorer announces with emphasis that the streets of a great city are far more dangerous than the African jungle. The chances of being eaten by a lion are very remote in the one case, while the prospect of being bowled over by a frenzied driver is ever imminent in the other.

CABINET MAKERS
With hurry call for cabinet makers
in Japan and France at the same moment
it is becoming evident that cabinet-making is not only the greatest but the most important of trades. Never a month passes without some potentate or government sending forth a feverish plea for good cabinet-makers.

THE RISING GENERATION
Are our schoolboys losing their conception of the value of human life? Aside from the Chicago case there are numerous other recent instances of youthful banditry and crime. There was the Maine lad of 14 who deliberately shot his young teacher to death, robbed her of her rings and watch and then
calmly buried her body in a shallow grave.
There seems to be somewhere lack of parental and educational control. The rising generation appears to be rising with a pistol
in one hand and a ray of moonshine in the other.

DIAGNOSES BY RADIO
The hearing of a man's heart in Pittsburg was heard by radio in England by Marconi. This is possibly the first time that the heart beats of a Pittsburgh man
have been heard around the world, but it is a fair indication of the scientific progress of the time. If a physician in Paris can keep step with the pulsations of a guy
in St. Louis almost all diagnoses can be accomplished over the ether. We now have wireless movies that would enable a physician to stick out his tongue at his favorite physician every 1000 miles away.

DOING THE QUESTION
At a big social gathering in Washington at which many politicians, diplomats and social leaders were present these questions were asked of all: "What is the real issue in the minds of the people? What should it be?" It was found that a great majority of the answers were: "The people are really thinking about prohibition.
They should be concerned over foreign affairs." Yet these are the very things the politicians are trying to avoid. Leaders in both parties endeavor to suppress the wet
and dry maneuvers and they seek to halt
any application of a foreign policy.
Legislators are seldom in tune with the masses, although they profess to be responsive to popular thought.

MUCH SWEETNESS
It is the contention of many that our girls are the sweetest that ever grew. Measured by the consumption of sugar in this country there is every warrant for the claim. One hundred years ago Americans were able to restrict themselves to eight pounds of the sweet stuff for a whole year.
In 1923 the per capita consumption in this country was 184 pounds and it is said to be increasing with great rapidity. The average man is mopping up more than his weight of sugar every year. It may not be good for him, but he is getting away with it just the same. This sugar itch is like perpetual motion. The more sugar one consumes the more one will weigh and the more one weighs the more sugar is desired.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION
Representatives of the great army of Republican voters in the United States, composed of about 30,000,000 men and women, are assembled in Cleveland this week for the purpose of nominating candidates for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency, drafting and adopting a national platform and selecting a national committee to conduct the campaign. Republicans await with confidence the result of those deliberations.

For the first time since 1894 there will be no contest over the nomination of a President. The choice has been made by the people in the primaries and the State conventions. Calvin Coolidge is the most popular Republican since Roosevelt. His success in the State primaries is almost unprecedented. It is not expected that the name of any other candidate will be presented to the convention, although a few scattering votes may be cast for La Follette and Johnson. A single State will give Coolidge more votes than the total number of ballots cast for other candidates.

Selecting a Vice-Presidential candidate will require more consideration. Former Gov. Lowden of Illinois seems to be the popular choice; but he has declined in advance the honor Republicans would like to bestow upon him. Once before, in declining the Vice-Presidency, he, unknowingly, declined the Presidency.

With Lowden eliminated the choice of the convention is uncertain. The President has indicated that he does not desire to dictate who shall be his running mate; although he has made it clear that he has decided upon a man who shall not be he.
The President is a man of principle. His administration stands for certain fixed policies. He is not one who will compromise a principle in order to win votes. He will protest against bestowing the Vice-Presidency as a sop to the so-called radical wing of the party. He will not consent that his running mate shall be hostile to the policies of the candidate for President or out of sympathy with the party platform.

Among the possibilities three Californians
have been mentioned: Herbert Hoover, Senator Shortridge and Charles Chapman.
Herbert Hoover is an international figure.
His selection would win the confidence of many in Europe and elsewhere who now regard the American government as the exponent of "dollar democracy." The unselfishness of Hoover is proverbial. While serving his first term, Senator Shortridge has made a favorable impression in the East. He is a master of parliamentary procedure and would doubtless make an acceptable President of the Senate. Charles Chapman is an able representative of the agricultural interests of the nation. If he were nominated he would strengthen the ticket in the agricultural States of the Middle West. A "dirt farmer" at the head of the Senate would gain confidence to farmers that their interests would neither be neglected nor misunderstood.

It is very doubtful, however, whether the delegates to the convention, most of whom come from east of the Mississippi, will look so far west as California. They are in a sense provincial, without being aware of it.
Against rhyme or reason "East is East and West is West." One thing is certain: the President's influence upon the convention is such that the delegates will not oppose his wishes in selecting a running mate. The man chosen will be one who, if fate should call him to the White House during the next four years, would be prepared to carry the administration policies to their fruition.
Drafting a party platform is a business, especially so if it is a Republican platform; for Republican administrations have won the confidence of the people in the past by keeping their platform pledges.
Democratic platforms have often been a kind of stew, containing about everything
in the political kitchen but the dish cloth.
To a Republican platform of election is generally opposed a Democratic platform of expediency, an experience that will probably be repeated this year.

It may be embarrassing for some Republican members of Congress to find the policies of the President which they wholly disregard in legislation written into the Republican platform. They will learn how far they have been out of sympathy with the public will. They had their inning in the Capitol during the last three months; the President will have his inning this week in Cleveland.

The confidence of the people in Calvin
Coolidge is such that they have no misgivings concerning the kind of platform on which he will stand. It will embody the traditions of the Republican party. It will be neither radical nor reactionary; just a plain declaration of principles, clearly worded—for the President will countenance no evasions—and in harmony with what have come to be known as the Harding-Coolidge policies.

Fortunate are the American people that they have a party which represents the highest aspirations of the nation and the leader who has won the confidence of their confidence. This unity is in striking contrast to the discordance and division that hampers reconstruction in most of the nations of Europe.

A MISERABLE SHOWING
A Congress has adjourned, leaving behind it an almost unbroken record of stupidity, inefficiency and wasted time.
It has not only puffed and squeaked
around in bewildered futile circles, accomplishing nothing; but it has blocked the carefully-thought-out and vitally-important legislative program offered by President Coolidge.

It will go down into the records of this nation as having been worse than that of no value. Its career should be recorded in ciphers; in less than ciphers if such a minus quantity can be devised.

The entire session was taken up with shrieking and melodramatic scandals and with petty, personal and district politics.
Both the House and the Senate deserve nothing more than to be cleaned out and disinfected. Neither house accomplished a single thing in a large way fitting the opportunities offered. Congress failed to support the President on a sane tax reduction program; it passed the bonus bill in the face of the President's veto and against the advice and desire of a great proportion of the voters themselves.

And even then it emasculated and twisted
and salvaged and shifted the bonus until it means very little to anybody and immeasurable harm to the nation's finances.

In spite of the handicap of being allied with such a feeble legislative body, some of the California members are deserving of credit. Capt. Fredericks made good on his hospital bill and the right of way through Fort MacArthur for the harbor belt-line road. Both he and Mr. Lineberger deserve credit for the harbor development now well

The Call

(Copyright, 1934, by George Matthew Adams)

All day the captain had been rottating about answering the out-post question, "Shall we land tonight," and then, about 5 o'clock, we were told we would. Did we? We did not. The new Valparaiso port law had just gone into effect and any ship arriving later than 6 p.m.
would not be received until the next morning. However, there was one stipulation, on the payment of $100 gold for each person, we could land under special privileges. As there were four persons in our party
we decided we would wait to see Valparaiso until morning and then for the 1400 gold (Chilean) dollars
we could almost eat up the whole lot, for that on exchange would amount to 4000 pesos.

You can buy, for four persons,
the most delicious dinner (hors d'oeuvre of camarones, the local large-sized, fresh-water shrimp,
soup, broiled fish, salad, chicken
with vegetables, dulce (sweet),
black, chocolate and excellent
wine and mineral water included) for the modest sum of 70 pesos,
which is 7 in United States gold.

You can also hire a large, seven-passenger automobile by the hour
for 30 pesos ($3) and what drives you can take! Long explained by the shore from Valparaiso to the fashionable suburb, Vina del Mar, I shall never forget the very tall lean made I had there at the hotel for 20 cents served out in the peaceful little Spanish court and under spread palms, which made me think of Los Angeles.

Valparaiso reminds one of San Francisco. There is a splendid air of solidity about the buildings and high stone cliffs.

The architecture is like the people, both a composite, but the Chil-enos are a very distinct type from the Peruvians, with not nearly so large an element of Spanish blood,
though Spanish is their language.
If by chance you should call them
Spanish you will be immediately corrected by "Chilean you mean."

Here the busy climate disappears
and in its place you see excellent-looking horses. Often down the middle of the crowded thoroughfare we saw strange loads moving along, consisting of a stack of horses were immense clothes cabinets, white porcelain bathtubs and even wooden coffins, empty, of course.

Over this whole west-coast country there is a wealth of churches, sacred statues, tolling bells and roadway shrines—but when we saw my Lord in bold black and white hats on the top of every street car in Valparaiso we thought,
"Well, this city beats them all in religious fervor." And then we were told that my Lord is the Spanish for St. Lord and is the name of a special brand of cigarette!

The distance from Valparaiso to Santiago de Chile is about four hours by rail, in a comfortable
chair car, through the most prosperous and fertile mountain and meadow country. It seems strange to pass across acres of purpling plum trees, yellowing peaches and ripening apples in the early part of April, but down here that equals
about our October.

This section of Chile is very like Southern California, the same true eucalyptus, pines, oaks and rivers "bottom side up" as we say in Los Angeles; here about
also the same sharp, sunny days.
After miles of stark, bare mountains, this seemed perfectly normal.

Like Valparaiso, the foliage,
fruits, flowers and vegetation of Santiago de Chile also remind one of Los Angeles, only living in all

Appeal of the death penalty

GRAVEL SUITS ARE HEARD

Question of Jury Trial Important Point to be Decided in Arroyo Seco Litigation

Hearing on legal points in three suits involving the right of the city to enjoin the Los Angeles Rock and Gravel Company from excavating sand and gravel in the bed of the Arroyo Seco near Avenue 26 was begun yesterday in Judge McLucas's court.

One of the principal points for give the city a monopoly of the the court to decide was whether the cases could be tried before a jury. As a jury trial of the cases is granted, it was stated, the three suits will be placed on trial together.

TWO SUITS BY COMPANY
The rock and gravel company is plaintiff in two of the actions, while the city and people are plaintiffs in the other suit. In its petition the city asserted the excavating of the stream bed constituted a menace to the health and property of the residents of the community bordering on the Arroyo Seco. The city also contended the excavating should be stopped as a means of guarding against a possible flood menace.

The company answered that the city itself was engaged in excavating in the same stream bed and that an injunction against the company would unduly deprive it of its constitutional rights and Briton.

TALK BY RAUBENHEIMER
Prof. H. S. Raubenheimer of the University of Southern California will address the Masonic Club of Los Angeles at its luncheon meeting tomorrow noon at the Alexandria. He will speak on "Boer and Briton."

The company further asserted the possibility of a flood menace was precluded by the erection of Derris Gate Dam and a retaining wall built by the company around its holdings.

The courtroom was packed by residents of the district who are interested in the outcome of the case.

MAILMAN GETS DAY IN JAIL FOR THEFT

Harry F. Weber, mailman, pleaded guilty before Judge Eide yesterday in charge of stealing from the mail and was sentenced to one day in jail.

Weber, working out of the office of the Los Angeles post office, admitted taking three stamps from letter packages entrusted to him for delivery.

He was arrested by the post office department. In passing sentence, Judge Eide said, "It is a pity that a man who has been in the service of the post office for so long should be convicted of such a crime. He is a good man, but he is a thief."

Heber, who has been in the service of the post office for 15 years, was arrested by the post office department. PORT Y.M.C.A. NEED TOLD

Ballard Stresses Army and Navy Handicap; Drive for $1,500,000 Gaining Great Momentum

"With Los Angeles Harbor the home port of the Pacific Fleet, the Y.M.C.A. headquarters at the harbor for Army and Navy men has been emphasized by the complete lack of facilities for the men of the Army and Navy here," said R. H. Ballard, general chairman of the Y.M.C.A. $1,500,000 building campaign which is gaining great momentum as was manifested by the attendance at a conference at the Biltmore yesterday.

"Admiral Eberle," continued Mr. Ballard, "recently said: 'The very great need of our men for such recreational facilities as the Y.M.C.A. has been accustomed to supply us have come to look upon as not merely a privilege, but a normal, rightful necessity. There are more men ashore more days in the year at Los Angeles Harbor than at all the Atlantic ports combined.'"

"With this as a keynote we are organizing the campaign for the $1,500,000 construction fund for the Army and Navy Y.M.C.A. Of this amount we are promised $500,000 from the National War Fund and some large subscriptions in hand will go toward helping out on the remainder. San Diego raised $300,000 for this purpose and is just completing a very splendid Army and Navy Y.M.C.A. Our present building at Los

GOING AWAY OF PASTOR REGRETTED

Dr. R. A. Torrey of Open Door Church Resigns After Long Service

Officials and lay members of the Bible Institute and Church of the Open Door were unanimous yesterday in their expression of regret caused by the announcement that Dr. R. A. Torrey has resigned his pastorate of the Church of the Open Door. Dr. Torrey has been serving as dean of the institute.

"Dr. Torrey made the decision to sever his connection with the institute and the church of the Bible Institute. 'We regret his leaving us but probably it is for the best. He has been connected with the institute and the church for twelve years. Every year he devoted five or six months to evangelistic work, and recently so many calls have been made on him that he deemed it best to give all of his time to that work.'"

Dr. Torrey is recognized as one of the world's foremost Bible teachers. Before coming to Los Angeles he was prominently connected with the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago and, prior to that, was associated with the late D. I. Moody. While he will do a great deal of traveling within the next few months, Dr. Torrey will maintain his home at South Pasadena. He will leave Los Angeles on July 4 for an evangelistic campaign to be conducted at Montrose, Pa.

Motion for New Trial Is Filed for Mrs. Willis

Mrs. Margaret B. Willis, convicted of the murder of Dr. R. B. Baldwin, appeared yesterday before Judge Crall for sentence. Sentence was not pronounced, however, as her attorney filed a motion for a new trial. The jury returned a verdict of first-degree murder and recommended life imprisonment.

Argument on the motion was set for Thursday. At that time, it was stated, affidavits will be presented to the court regarding the deliberations of the trial jury and, possibly, regarding other asserted conditions regarding the case. Dep. Dist. Atty. Dennison and Hammer will resist the motion. The court ordered a cash bail of $500 deposited for the appearance of Bert Webster, sweetheart of Mrs. Willis, exonerated.

REALTY MAN ARRESTED

Frank Haddock, real estate operator of Visalia and Los Angeles, was arrested here yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Fox. Haddock was on a bench warrant charging a felony at Visalia. Harry A. Chamberlain, attorney for Haddock, stated his client did not know the charge on which he was arrested.

PARKING SURVEY BODY CONCLUDES HEARINGS

NOT MANY CHANGES ARE EXPECTED IN PROPOSED REGULATIONS

The parking survey committee of which R. W. Prichard is chairman yesterday concluded its hearing on requests for revisions of its recommendations for comprehensive new parking regulations for Los Angeles streets, and will return the suggestions to the City Council's Public Safety Committee with the committee's report. It is expected that the committee will recommend no important changes, but will ask that the recommendations be given a fair trial as an effort to relieve traffic congestion that will be fair to automobile owners, street-car patrons and downtown merchants.

Chairman Prichard said that considering the wide scope of the proposed new regulations, the number of protests filed against them were very small. Each protest was given careful consideration by engineers of the committee.

NEGRO IS GIVEN LIFE IN MURDER OF WIFE

George William Henry Smith, a negro, who killed his wife to keep her out of bad company, pleaded guilty to first-degree murder yesterday and was sentenced by Judge Reeve to life imprisonment at San Quentin. Smith said his wife, Clara Belle, persisted in associating with a woman of bad character. He pleaded with her to come home, he declared, and when she refused shot her.

Donkey Steak Leads Him to Stage Career | Man Who Killed Headlines Now in Pantages

A piece of a dead donkey, which alive had drawn a coster's fruit barrow in London, was the means of introducing Finch Smiles to the English stage.

Smiles, for years famous as a character man in England, Australia and South Africa is now acting for the movies at Hollywood.

Since his arrival in this country he has played in several First Na-

Were it not for the donkey flesh smiles would have been a veterinarian surgeon, and lost forever to the stage and screen.

The donkey flesh changed the course of his career while he was a student at the Royal Veterinary College at Camden, London. He was in the dissecting room with other students—a dead donkey on the table, awaiting to be cut up. The student he shared the table with sliced the donkey's meat at the same time that he was cutting the student's student down the middle. As far as the remainder the embryonic horse doctor took the dare. The door opened. The donkey flesh sailed through the air and struck—not a student—but one of the college professors.

Right there his career in animal medicine ended. 'A month later he was playing in the mob at a Shakespearean performance and his stage career had begun.

Well as Hands
Express Mood
With Feet as

"Any mood asserts itself through the feet as well as through the face and hands," declares Margaret Livingston, Regal Pictures star, and one of the inconsistencies of acting that annoys her the most is to see a tired face and happy feet, or vice versa on the screen. We often speak of "tell-tale eyes" and hands that converse," according to Miss Livingston, "talking feet" are just as important in putting over an idea in pantomime.

In "Wandering Husbands," now at the Mission, Miss Livingston's feet did a great deal toward putting over her characterization. She expects to use this same phase of pantomime in her starrer, Miss of July will mark the finale of the Cecil B. De Mille classic at Grauman's. His Egyptian Theater, where the period drama is now in its eighth week.

The final showing of "Commandments" will be hundred and thirty-fifth, and the film found classic, "Conductor 1492," which opened for a week's run Saturday at Tally's Theater, is an instant success. Johnny Hines is better than ever, if such a thing is possible. He is always so full of pep, jazz and rapid-fire humor that it hardly seems possible he can improve on it.

"Conductor 14" is the tale of an ambitious young Irishman just arrived in this country and bent on making his way to fame and fortune. With a ready smile and willing hand he got along well. He finally realized one of his boyhood ambitions when he was hired as a conductor on a trolley line. Will Rogers in "Little Moments

An unusual move in the history of local theatricals was the ar-

No attraction in this city has heretofore been transferred from one theater to another to meet public demand, especially after a long run wide open. I was never so saddened in my life. engagement made last Saturday by A. L. Erlanger and E. D. Smith with Loula O. Macdon for the continuation of Doris Keane in "Romance" here at the Biltmore. No attraction in this city has heretofore been transferred from one theater to another to meet public demand, especially after a long run wide open. I was never so saddened in my life. Miss Keane had planned to take month's vacation before presenting "Romance" in San Francisco, but these plans have been deferred in order that local theatergoers may see more of the play and its star. "Romance" will reopen at the Biltmore next Monday.

NEW YORK AGENT
CARRIES HIS OWN
HIDE PROTECTION

Arthur Colton Company,
Detroit, Michigan.
March 27th, 1924.
Mr. S. E. Strong,
205 Central Viaduct,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Mr. Strong: "No-burn." I had occasion last summer to give it a good trial on a long fishing trip down South and was pleased with the results. I found it all that you had claimed, besides a certain sense of security and freedom accompanied its use. It helps to have a good time by making it free from worry of after effects. To those like myself, who don't get out in the open very much, it is really and truly a great satisfaction.

Wishing you success, I am,
Very truly yours,
DOANE HAGE,
New York Representative.

Just one application of "No-burn" applied before each exposure and you are sunburn proof. You get the tan, but not the burn. An invisible, odorless, harmless liquid, quickly applied, easily washed off.

Made and guaranteed by Strong Co., of Cleveland, who have been in business for thirty years. "No-burn" sold at all good drug stores.—(Advertisement.)

Here is the Reason Why Los Angeles Has Many Beautiful Women

Los Angeles—"I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicine; they have been a great help to me. While passing through the critical period of life, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gave me the only relief I had. I became very thin, was all rundown, weak and extremely nervous. I was on the verge of nervous prostration and suffered with all the discomforts that women have at middle age, but after taking the 'Prescription' for a time I was well and strong. I regained my weight and just felt fine."—Mrs. H. M. Ricks, 759 E. 12th St.

Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"Your little book left at my door was my best doctor. I read it, then said to my husband, 'Please go and get me some Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I want to take it.' The first month I took three bottles of Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. If you only knew how much better I feel! Now when my friends say they are sick I tell them to take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine. I give the little book and your medicines the best of thanks."—Mrs. HANSEN, 2705 25th Street, Detroit, Mich.

In newspapers and booklets we are constantly publishing letters from women, who explain how they were helped by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These letters should guide you. If you are troubled with pains and nervousness, or any feminine disorder, bear in mind that the Vegetable Compound has helped other women and should help you. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Among those who sent floral offerings were Charles Chapin, Sid Grauman, Viola Dana, Lew Cody, Joe Benjamin, Arthur Rankin, Francis McDonald, Lefty Flynn, Bryan For, Eddie Sullivan, Mildred June, Robert Fraser, Earl Fox, Eddie Brandstatter, Edwin Sturges and Clarence Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Hennock left Los Angeles after the funeral to return to their home in Chicago.

Pre-war Rates
Are Ordered on
Pipe Shipments

Return to prewar charges on freight shipments of steel and iron pipe were ordered by the State Railroad Commission yesterday in a decision affecting all steam and electric railways in California who are parties to the western classification and Pacific freight tariff bureau exemption sheet ratings on freight shipments.

The commission ordered all rail lines to file within twenty days the classification applying to steel and iron pipe in effect prior to the war but subject to the minimum class rate scale.

Shipments of this nature before the war were moved under the Pacific freight tariff bureau exemption sheet, which was established in California some twenty years ago, to take care of situations peculiar to State traffic, where they could not satisfactorily be made under the western classification schedule.

The action of the commission in ordering the return to prewar charges came as a result of the complaint of the Madewell Manufacturing Company and Western Pipe and Steel Company of California against all rail lines.

SILVERWOOD'S
CELEBRATES

Thirtieth Anniversary Sees
Cause of Rejoicing

Company Has Blazed Way to Enviably Position

Fairness and Quality Gain
Their Just Reward

BY OLIVE GRAY

In celebrating its thirtieth anniversary Silverwood's at the same time is commemorating an important event in the history of Los Angeles, for it is to establishments such as this that the city owes its progress and its standing among cities famed for up-to-date business methods.

To foresee possibilities, to discern in dim horizon the greatness that was to be, to pioneer in location and in expansion required genuine business acumen. That Silverwood's possessed the requisite qualities in a marked degree long since has been attested.

Locating in a vicinity which was then far in advance of the mercantile center, this store, by applying quality in merchandise and high-class methods in the conduct of its affairs, not only has kept pace with the growth of the metropolis, but always just a little in advance, leading rather than following. Gaining as it advanced a clientele commensurate with the standing of the house and building ever a reputation for clean dealing and for the newest in men's wear, Silverwood's has become the standard for excellence in its line.

After it was organized and incorporated, Ed. Nagel, long chosen to head the company, following the death of Mr. Silverwood. Mr. Nagel is a business genius, one who has an immense following of friends in both mercantile and social circles.

Although special sales are not the policy of this house, the entire establishment during the anniversary celebration will emphasize the features for which it has gained fame—quality, modernness in garments and accessories, and prices which are right.

The beauty of the store, revealed upon its completion a few years ago, I such as to need no enhancement; although there is no new touch in decorative scheme, the manner of displaying merchandise or in window setting which is not at once adopted here.

An ornament to the corner of Broadway at Sixth, Silverwood's was one of the first to recognize the cosmopolitanism of Los Angeles in construction of a house adequate for future as well as for present use.

Stocking only the best of nationally known merchandise, Silverwood's is the reliable source from which high-class business men draw their apparel. In the certainty that they may rely upon the advice there received as to what is correct, authentic and dignified.

Film Director

The body of Lew Mason, motion-picture casting director, who ended his life a few weeks ago, was interred yesterday at Forest Lawn Cemetery with simple services.

The services were private and only his mother, stepfather, a few relatives and the pallbearers were present. Marcela Daly, the motion-picture actress to whom the young casting director left all his belongings in his suicide note, was not present.

Mrs. L. M. Hennock, the mother, who hurried to Los Angeles from Paris to attend her son's funeral, was near collapse during the services. Others at the service were Mrs. Hennock, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Forman of Encinitas, an uncle and aunt, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Swift of Alta Loma.

The pallbearers, all close friends of the director, were Monte Brice, Philo McCullough, Byron Munson, Robert Agnew, Tom Korman and Charles Furthmann.

The services were simple. Rev. Philip Knutridge kept off-duty. A magnificent floral token from friends and acquaintances in the motion picture colony covered the casket.

Among those who sent floral offerings were Charles Chapin, Sid Grauman, Viola Dana, Lew Cody, Joe Benjamin, Arthur Rankin, Francis McDonald, Lefty Flynn, Bryan For, Eddie Sullivan, Mildred June, Robert Fraser, Earl Fox, Eddie Brandstatter, Edwin Sturges and Clarence Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Hennock left Los Angeles after the funeral to return to their home in Chicago.

Pre-war Rates
Are Ordered on
Pipe Shipments

Return to prewar charges on freight shipments of steel and iron pipe were ordered by the State Railroad Commission yesterday in a decision affecting all steam and electric railways in California who are parties to the western classification and Pacific freight tariff bureau exemption sheet ratings on freight shipments.

The commission ordered all rail lines to file within twenty days the classification applying to steel and iron pipe in effect prior to the war but subject to the minimum class rate scale.

Shipments of this nature before the war were moved under the Pacific freight tariff bureau exemption sheet, which was established in California some twenty years ago, to take care of situations peculiar to State traffic, where they could not satisfactorily be made under the western classification schedule.

The action of the commission in ordering the return to prewar charges came as a result of the complaint of the Madewell Manufacturing Company and Western Pipe and Steel Company of California against all rail lines.

The image is a vertical, high-contrast scan of a dark, textured surface. It appears to be a book cover or endpaper, characterized by a prominent vertical crease or fold line running down the center. The texture is grainy and uneven, with varying shades of black and dark grey. There are some lighter, vertical streaks and small white specks scattered across the surface, possibly due to the scanning process or the material's texture. The overall appearance is that of a worn, old book component.

ENGINEER URGES STREET PAVING

Would Put Nine Jobs Under Emergency Plan
Some of Petitions on File for Three Years

Council Opens Bids for Five Road Improvements

City Engineer Griffin yesterday submitted to the Board of Public Works a list of nine streets which he desires to have paved at once, the surveys and preparation of ordinances to be carried through by outside engineers employed under the City Council's $200,000 emergency public improvement appropriation. The streets are as follows:

Emmet Terrace and Las Palmas Avenue Improvement District, which includes Emmet Terrace from Whitley avenue to Las Palmas avenue, and Las Palmas avenue from Emmet Terrace to Franklin avenue; Indiana street from First street to Whitley boulevard; Saratoga street from Brooklyn avenue to Michigan avenue; Glen Tower street from Beachwood Drive to 393 feet west; Avenue Thirty-three and Carlyle street from First street to Whitley boulevard; Avenue Thirty-five to Avenue Thirty-seven from Moss avenue to Verdugo Road; Carlyle street from Arthur street to Verdugo Road; Verdugo Road from Verdugo Road to San Fernando Road; Avenue Thirty-one to Verdugo Road and Avenue Thirty from Verdugo Road to San Fernando Road; Carlyle Place from a point 175 feet east to a point 250 feet west of Carlyle street; Toledo street from Weaver street to Meridian street; and Weaver street from Alameda street to Milwaukee street; Whitmore avenue; George Taylor street to Land street and Alvarado street from a point 202.5 feet north to Whitmore avenue; Ines street from 1245 feet east of Concord street to Ezra street and Baxter street from Alvarado street to Alessandro street.

Petitions for the paving of these streets have been on file in some cases for three years, but the tremendous number of petitions being received prevented the preparation of ordinances, and so finally the Council authorized the employment of outside engineers to assist the City Engineer's force.

The first street to be paved under the emergency program are sections of West Adams, Fairfax, Vermont avenue, South Park avenue and Stetson and bids were opened yesterday by the Board of Public Works for the engineering work and preparation of ordinances. The bidders were J. B. Wadham, Edward R. Brown, Tuttle Engineering Company, J. B. Lippincott, Ben O. Eudaly, Seaboard Engineering Company, George Wall, Edward M. Lynch, Engineering Service Company, Frank B. Cummings, E. E. Milt, and Von Wood. The bids for the engineering work on preparing ordinances for each street ranged from $3000 to $8000. These are being analyzed by the City Engineer and the contracts will be awarded by the Board of Public Works. Bids will then be asked for the engineering work on the second group of streets recommended by the City Engineer.

The complaint accuses Ryan with persuading the girl to take intoxicating liquor, a similar charge against Sol Siegle, a clerk in a downtown haberdashery, was dismissed last week.

Nichols of 1517 West Eighteenth street to induce his wife to return to him was ruled to be a disturbance of the peace by Police Judge Sheldon yesterday. He sentenced Nichols to thirty days in jail. The trouble took place at the home of Mrs. Nichols' father, C. B. Albright, at 721 West Fifth street. Mrs. Nichols had come there after a quarrel. It was said.

JUDGMENT DENIED IN WILL CASE

Pleas of Both Sides Are Rejected in Contest for Mary Miller Estate

In an attempt to set aside the verdict of a jury that broke the will of Mary Moore Miller, attorneys for Dr. Jared H. Miller, who was bequeathed $1 per cent of Mrs. Miller's estate by her will, yesterday moved in Judge McClellan's court for judgment on the special findings in the case. The motion was denied and a motion for judgment for the plaintiff was also denied. The case is being heard by Judge Walton J. Wood of the Superior Court.

Mrs. Cleveland appeared in court attired in the dress she wore on the night of the high-kicking contest. She pleaded before the court to show the dress in detail and vigorously denied her husband's charge that she had conducted herself in an unbecomingly manner during the party or that she had lost her undergarment while attempting to better the high-kicking mark set by another of the feminine guests.

She explained that when she thought the dress it was somewhat short for her, so she proceeded to make an undergarment which she wore beneath the dress and which fell lower than the dress.

Before she entered the kicking contest, she declared, she retired to her room and took off the undergarment. Then, she said, she kicked at a man's hand held at a considerable height. Later she put the undergarment in again.

Mrs. Cleveland also declared that her husband was miserably, although his income from the property left him by his father alone amounted to more than $1200 a month. Once, when she bought an outfit for $100, he became so enraged that for four months afterward he deducted $25 each month from her allowance. He gave her a small car, she said, but charged her a cent a mile for operating it.

PROVE VALUE OF TRAINING

Boy Scout Rescues Swimmer From Deep Water
Tulare County Ranchers Ship Green Fruit

Light Rainfall an Aid to Trout Fishermen

EXETER, June 9.—Benefit of Boy Scout training was demonstrated when William Cash of Exeter rescued a companion from a threatened water grave. A number of the lake was swimming in St. John's River when one of their number, a boy named Hettick, who could not swim, slipped off a wet rock into the deep water.

Cash, who was in the stream practicing swimming, came to the aid of the Hettick lad, who had gone under the surface and was very badly frightened.

A few days previous Clifford Whitney and Oliver Nichols pulled the brother scout out of the water at Homer's Flat. He collapsed while in the water.

SHIP FRESH FISH

WOODLAKE, June 9.—The first fresh fish to reach the San Francisco markets this season were shipped by Oscar Ragle of Woodlake. The first room of the famous old trees on the Ragle place, which have established a record for the heavy production of many years' standing. Shipments this year are fully ten days ahead of last season.

FISHING IS GOOD

THREE RIVERS, June 9.—Fishing in streams of the Kaweah and Tule rivers is described as very good this season, indicating that the low water and would be a better chance to get the limit. Catches have been reported from some of the lower streams, which have not been enjoyed for a number of years. Low water, however, apparently having caused the fish to seek lower levels.

It is believed that a number of streams will be very dry this season which have not been dry in many years.

PLAY INDOOR GOLF

PORTERVILLE, June 9.—"Something new" is promised for entertainment Monday evening, June 9, at the Elks' Club, according to Waldo E. Burford, Exalted Ruler. An indoor golf tournament will be held at the club on Monday evening. Paul J. Robinson, Frank K. Ritchie and Ralph R. Walbridge are the committee in charge.

COSTLY FIRE

VIRALIA, June 9.—Fire of unknown origin totally destroyed a barn, fifty to sixty feet long and a 3000-gallon water tank and tankhouse on the Andy Patterson homestead north of Viralial. The loss is estimated at $20,000, and is partly covered by insurance. Tony Silva, who operates the homestead, expressed belief that the fire was of incendiary origin, but the farmers gave their impression that the hay had been soaked in damp and combustion resulted.

SHIP GREEN FRUIT

TULARE, June 9.—A carload of apricots, the first shipment of fresh fruit to leave Tulare this season, is en route to Denver. This fruit came from the Giannini ranch, and was shipped from one of the new plants of the T. M. Amendola company.

Fire, now rising rapidly, and it is expected that the shipping season will soon be well under way. A record output for this new local industry is expected this season as a total of five green-packing-houses are to be located here.

DEFENDS ON BOND ISSUE

TULARE, June 9.—If the voters vote the $155,000 bond issue, construction of an improved sewer system will be started by August 1, date set by the State Board of Health in its recent urgent letter to the County Council. The trustees adopted a resolution of intention to this effect at their regular session.

According to Engineer Henry Elrod, $150,000 of this amount would be used to enlarge the present main line of the sewer, and $5,000 for constructing a disposal plant.

The Valley Paving Construction Company of Visalia submitted a report showing the L street paving to be completed, indicating a plan for assessment for the paving. The cost of the paving was in the neighborhood of $50,000.

DENIES HER KICKING WAS NOT PROPER

Mrs. Cleveland Reveals in Court Steps Husband Based Suit Upon

High kicking by feminine guests at dinner parties and its propriety at such times formed the text of virtually all of the testimony taken yesterday in the trial of the divorce suit of Guy T. Mrs. Cleveland appeared in court attired in the dress she wore on the night of the high-kicking contest. THE LILACS ARE IN BLOOM

Years ago, probably twenty, when Dr. Quayle, since bishop, was pastor of a Methodist church in Kansas City. I frequently went to hear him preach. One Sunday morning at this season of the year his opening prayer impressed me. We had had an unusually long, hard winter, but this particular Sunday was bright and beautiful. Bishop Quayle's face beamed with joy of spring, and closing his eyes, he began his morning prayer with "We thank Thee, Oh Lord, that the lilacs are in bloom." (M.T.F. in Kansas City Star.)

The salt of the sea. The ocean contains enough seasoning material to form a block of salt measuring 4,000,000 cubic miles. More graphically expressed, perhaps, is the measurement which indicates that there is sufficient salt in the vast bodies of water to form a crust more than one and one-half miles deep over the entire surface of the United States. Or, expressing the volume of salt matter present in the sea in a third form, one per cent. of the seasoning contents of the ocean would envelope the dry lands of the universe to a depth of 390 feet.

NEARLY DIED ON BIRTHDAY

"On my last birthday, eight months ago, I had another close call. We had just finished dinner. My stomach began to hurt me, a minute later I lay unconscious. Three doctors worked on me. I was soaked with a cold sweat when I came to. The next week, telling a friend about it and he advised trying Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking a course of your medicine I have been able to eat anything. I have no more pains or bloating and am feeling better than for ten years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—[Advertisement]
